

DYING WOMAN NOT YET IDENTIFIED

Found in Street with Skull Fractured, She Muttered Brokenly the Name "Mary Sweeney" and Gave Address.

POLICE FAIL TO FIND ANY ONE KNOWING HER.

Wore Neither Coat Nor Hat When Discovered—General Appearance Indicates She Was Housekeeper or Servant.

Should the unidentified woman lying unconscious with a fractured skull in the Brooklyn Hospital die, it seems likely she will carry her identity to the grave with her. Many clues which it was hoped would lead to identification have been followed, with no result.

When picked up at Hudson avenue and Water street, Brooklyn, Sunday night the young woman muttered brokenly the name "Mary Sweeney" and "No. 325 East Nineteenth street." Inquiries at this number for information concerning the woman revealed nothing. The place is a boarding-house, but the proprietress said none of her boarders or roomers was missing, and she knew of no one answering the description of the dying girl.

The woman is about thirty years old, 5 feet 9 inches in height and weighs about a hundred and fifty pounds. Her hair is dark and she is apparently of Irish extraction.

The Brooklyn police think she may be a woman who was known in the neighborhood as Mary Hanley or Mary O'Brien, although they have no positive information concerning her.

When found lying on the pavement with a deep wound in her head the woman had on neither coat nor hat. She wore a blue striped waist, black skirt, tan Eton jacket and brown shoes and stockings. Her general appearance was that of a housekeeper or servant.

Since being taken to the hospital the young woman has not regained consciousness.

DYING MAN HELD UNDER TROLLEY

Knocked Down, Body Catches in Brakes and He Is Dragged Half a Block Before the Car Is Stopped.

Walter C. Dandy, twenty-nine years old, a clerk in the Union Hotel, at Hester street and the Bowery, was knocked down and dragged half a block to-day by a north-bound Third avenue car.

He died in Gouverneur Hospital two hours later, having received a fractured skull and internal injuries. Mortician Walsh, who was in charge of the car, was arrested and taken to the Eldridge street police station.

Dandy came down town on a south-bound car, and got off at Hester street. He did not see the north-bound car, which was coming at a rapid rate, until the fender struck him and knocked him down.

Before Walsh could stop the car Dandy had rolled under and was caught in the brakes so that they would not operate. He was dragged half a block before the car stopped for lack of power.

A crowd of men gathered about the car and lifted it, but Dandy's body was caught, and it was impossible to drag it forth until a wrecking crew had been called.

Cars on the north-bound line were blocked for half an hour, and there was a string of them a mile long by the time his body was taken out by the wrecking crew.

An ambulance from Gouverneur Hospital had been called in the mean time, and the surgeon, kneeling on the ground, attempted to minister to the injured man. The latter was unconscious, however, and the extent of his injuries could not be learned until his rescue was effected.

Patrick Walsh, the motorman, who was arrested, gave his address as No. 48 West Forty-eighth street. He was completely unnerfed by the accident and said Dandy had jumped in front of his car from behind the south-bound one too late for him to stop.

A crowd of men gathered about the car and lifted it, but Dandy's body was caught, and it was impossible to drag it forth until a wrecking crew had been called.

Women who work, whether in the house, store, office or factory, very rarely have the ability to stand the strain. The case of Miss Frankie Orser, of Boston, Mass., is interesting to all women, and adds further proof that woman's great friend in need is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I suffered misery for several years. My back ached and I had bearing down pains and frequent headaches. I would often wake from a restful sleep in such pain and misery that it would be hours before I could close my eyes again. I dreaded the long nights and weary days. I could do no work. I consulted different physicians, hoping to get relief, but finding that their medicines did not cure me, I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it was highly recommended to me. I am glad that I did so, for I soon found that it was the medicine for my case. Very soon I was rid of every ache and pain and restored to perfect health. I feel splendid, have a fine appetite, and have gained in weight a lot."—MISS FRANKIE ORSER, 14 Warren St., Boston, Mass.

Surely you cannot wish to remain weak, sick and discouraged, and exhausted with each day's work. Some derangement of the female organs is responsible for this exhaustion, following any kind of work or effort. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you just as it has thousands of other women.

The case of Mrs. Lennox, which follows, proves this.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Last winter I broke down suddenly and had to seek the advice of a doctor. I felt sore all over, with a pounding in my head, and a dizziness which I had never experienced before. I had a miserable appetite, nothing tasted good, and gradually my health broke down completely. The doctor said I had female weakness; but, although I took his medicine faithfully, I found no relief.

"After two months I decided to try what a change would do for me, and as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was strongly recommended to me, I decided to try it. Within three days I felt better, my appetite returned, and I could sleep. In another week I was able to sit up part of the day, and in ten days more I was well. My strength had returned, I gained fourteen pounds, and felt better and stronger than I had for years. Very sincerely yours, MRS. BERT E. LENNOX, 120 East 4th St., Dixon, Ill."

I gratefully acknowledge its merits. 120 East 4th St., Dixon, Ill."

While appearing against John J. Hervey, a truck driver, of No. 98 East Sixteenth street, in the Jefferson Market Court to-day, Policeman Ecker had a chance to tell Magistrate Barlow how he saved Mayor McClellan and Major Woodbury from a collision on Broadway yesterday afternoon. The Mayor and the Commissioner were in an automobile and Hervey was holding to the reins of a horse which he didn't know how to drive.

"I found Hervey lashing his ore and on the wrong side of the 'set,' said the policeman. 'I told him to stop and he wouldn't. Then I grabbed at the horse, which was going very fast, and was dragged a block before I brought it to a stop at Astor place. Just as the horse stopped the pole of the wagon slid along the side of an automobile. If the horse had gone any further some one in the automobile would have been hurt.'

"When I looked at the men in the auto I imagine my surprise to find that they were Mayor McClellan and Major Woodbury. Both leaned over the side of the automobile and thanked me."

BABY'S BODY BURIED. Chopped Remains, Wrapped in Paper, Left in Washington Square Park Cottage.

The body of a newly born baby boy, badly charred and burned, was found in the "ladies' room" of the cottage in Washington Square Park by the matron to-day. It was wrapped in paper and the package had been left under a washstand. Policeman Drummond took the body to the Mercer street station and later it was removed to the morgue. The cottage is closed every night at 10 o'clock, and it is believed the body was left there shortly before the closing hour last night.

Silk and Velvet Sale--A Triumph of Low Prices.

We started in yesterday morning to sell our purchases from the great auction sale of stock from the Ashley & Bailey Silk Mills of Paterson, New Jersey. As we write this story (5 P. M. Monday) our Silk Buyer tells us he has had the biggest business in the history of the store.

The values are extraordinary. We really got the cream of the entire stock—and it was a very good stock at that. The prices tell the story best. You can judge for yourself what a saving is possible. We cannot promise complete choosing from the various assortments beyond to-morrow.
